12. How do we monitor pupil progress?

All the teachers in the school are teachers of children with Special Educational Needs. As such Marazion School adopts a 'whole school approach' to special educational needs which involves all the staff adhering to a model of good practice. The staff of the school are committed to identifying and providing for the needs of all children in a wholly inclusive environment. Inclusion is regarded as crucial to all that we do. Children with special educational needs are afforded the same rights as other children. This includes children with statements of special educational needs, Education, Health and Care Plans (EHCPs) and those with less significant problems.

In compliance with the new SEN Code of Practice we adopt a graduated approach to the identification, provision and support of all pupils. All pupils are regularly assessed to ensure they make progress. If a child remains static in reading, writing or mathematics for a term then class teachers, senior management and the SENDCo agree on action for the next term's provision. A child who is not making progress or working below national expectations will be placed on the school On Alert list.

If a pupil is still not making progress after another term on the On Alert list then the school may seek advice from outside agencies such as the Educational psychologist or dyslexia specialist. If a pupil is still not making progress after two terms and is accessing individualised and specialist support, they will be placed on our SEN Record and appropriate provision will be in put in place. Pupil's progress will be monitored as part of the Assess, Plan, Do, Review cycle, either as an Individual Provision Map or Pupil Passport.

If the pupil is still not making progress the child may be assessed bearing in mind the County criteria with a view to initiating an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP). The appropriate forms will be used for recording and referral as necessary. Identification of special educational needs will be undertaken by all staff through the SENCO and the appropriate records and LEA forms will be maintained. Records will be developed through a process of continuous assessment. Assessments allow the pupil to show what they know, understand and can do, as well as to identify any learning difficulties.

The progress of children with special educational needs will be reviewed through formative and summative assessments as outlined in the Code of Practice. Additionally, the progress of children with a Statement of Educational Need or an EHCP will be reviewed annually, as required by legislation.

13. How do we know how good our SEN provision is?

Each term the progress of groups of pupils, including pupils with SEN is compiled, analysed and reported to governors. This analysis informs the next term's provision, deployment of Teaching Assistants and recommendations for Wave 1 whole class teaching.

The SEND Co-ordinator oversees the SEN provision within the school and liaises with, and reports back to, the Head Teacher, the SEN Governor, the Governing body and the staff. Guidelines and deadlines for procedures are provided and class teachers, with the support of their TAs, are responsible for:

- Identifying those with special needs
- Writing and implementing IPMs
- Liaison with parents.

All referrals to external agencies are made through the SEND Co-ordinator and all documentation is copied and kept in individual pupil files in the office or individual file on the server.

The school offers a differentiated curriculum. When a pupil fails to make progress and shows signs of difficulty in some of the following areas: acquiring literacy and numeracy; presenting persistent EBD difficulties; has sensory or physical problems; or communication or interaction difficulties, the school will place the pupil on the On Alert List and support that is additional to and different from the differentiated curriculum will be provided. If a pupil is placed on the SEN Record this indicates the involvement of outside agencies working with school eg Educational Psychologist, Family Support and provision information is shared with parents through an Individual Education Plan (IEP)

14. How do we keep parents' informed?

The school will actively seek the involvement of parents in the education of their children. It is recognised that it is particularly important with pupils who have special educational needs where the support and encouragement of parents is often the crucial factor in achieving success.

Parents will always be kept informed about the Special Educational Needs experienced by their children in accordance with the recommendations outlined in the Code of Practice. Communications between the parent and the school will be consistently maintained.

Parents will be fully consulted before the involvement of LA support agencies with their children, and will be invited to attend any formal review meetings at all stages

15. If you wish to complain

The procedure for managing complaints is:

- Parents consult with class teacher
- Parents consult with SEN Co-ordinator / Head Teacher / Governor
- Parents are given information about Parent Partnership Groups
- Records of all events are kept in writing
- Parents will be invited in to discuss their difficulties face to face
- Parents will be communicated with in writing
- If parents have a concern the aim would be to contact them immediately or within a short timescale
- Refer to complaints procedure document

16. Answers to Frequently asked Questions

Are all children able to attend Marazion School?

Marazion School is a fully inclusive school and all pupils are welcomed into our school community. Our building has had adjustments to ensure it is accessible to all.

How do people in school know if my child needs extra help?

All pupils at Marazion School receive high quality teaching that is differentiated to meet each child's needs. Targets are set and progress is carefully monitored. If a child is not making progress from their individual starting point, the class teacher will meet with the Senior Leadership team to discuss what extra support may be needed. All interventions are monitored as part of the Assess, Plan, Do, Review cycle. If a child is not making progress the school will ask for support from outside agencies.

What should I do if I think my child may have special educational needs?

Please speak to your class teacher if you have any concerns or questions with regards to your child's individual needs. The class teacher will liaise with the SENCO when appropriate to ensure the correct support is in place.

How do school staff support my child?

At Marazion School we believe that a child's emotion health and wellbeing is fundamental to ensure academic attainment and progress. We support children through a variety of intervention programmes, from Nurture groups to reading interventions and have specialised staff to support individual needs. Your child's class teacher is responsible for the progress and attainment of your child on a day to day basis and will assess whether additional support or resources are needed. In addition, outside agencies may offer support and individual plans to ensure

How is the curriculum matched to my child's needs?

At Marazion School we provide an exciting and stimulating curriculum that promotes a love of learning for all of our pupils. When a child has been identified with having special education needs, the class teacher and teaching assistants will carefully plan to deliver differentiated learning and a classroom environment to ensure that every child can access the curriculum, whatever level they are working at. Children may work one to one or in a small focus group to target specific needs.

How is my child included in activities outside of the classroom, including educational visits?

Provision is made for all children to ensure they can participate in all learning activities regardless of their needs. This may be done in consultation with parents to ensure reasonable adjustments have been made.

How can school support parents and families of children with Special Educational Needs?

At Marazion School we work in partnership with parents and carers and they are integral in the planning and implementation of target settings as part of Individual Provision Map meetings. Class teachers are always available to make suggestions to support your child with strategies at home. We are also able to get support and signpost families to external agencies, such as our school family worker who can work with the whole family.

How are school resources allocated and matched to pupil's individual needs?

For pupils with additional needs, assessments will identify extra resources and adaptations that will be required in to support children so they can develop and progress. Specialist equipment can be sourced to meet individual needs and support will be matched to each child's individual needs. E.g. working as a group or on a one-to-one basis with a teaching assistant.

How is the SEND Information Report reviewed?

Marazion School's SEND Information Report is monitored and reviewed throughout the year and is reviewed annually in consultation with parents, staff, the Governing Body and Senior Leadership Team.
